

Surveillance

Whether it's surveillance of a spouse or partner, custodial parent, insured person or other, we have the resources necessary to gather relevant information and intelligence.

Field searches, audio and video evidence and the locating of key witnesses and/or potential defendants are all a part of our surveillance practice.

Surveillance techniques include manned physical surveillance, static surveillance (including pole cameras), and the utilization of drone capabilities. Our surveillance teams include both male and female agents who are ready and able to engage with the target.
